

I expected a well-organized, inspiring and motivating course with lots of new teaching methods and possibilities to mirror myself as a teacher. My expectations were met completely. I adapted some theater techniques I can use right away in my courses and also in the long run. I adapted some new techniques to my old ones.

The daily workshops were very well structured, so we could enjoy a great outcome in a very limited time. The presented methods inspired us a lot, so we could develop a performance and stage this play in a school, where we got great feedback! The most important outcome of the course for me was that I discovered puppet theatre from an absolutely new perspective and got the inspiration to use it as a method of teaching languages.

I learnt a lot about puppet making and performing with them. Arranging for us to perform in the school was the highlight of our course and was most informative. We have already introduced puppets into ALâ having run a very successful workshop and agreeing to include puppets into our show in late November. We will continue working with the weekly workshop participants during the next few months.
